PHIL ESPOSITO

Vice President and General Manager

On July 14, 1986, the New York Rangers appointed Phil Esposito as vice president and general manager, only the eighth man to hold that post in the 62-year history of the team and a move that signaled many new things to come. Few general managers have overhauled a hockey organization as thoroughly and quickly as Esposito, as he demonstrated the work ethic that carried over from his days on the ice.

He met his challenges head on, making a series of trades and other personnel moves that produced a young, aggressive team that played with relentless enthusiasm. In addition to his front office duties, due to the illness of head coach Tom Webster, Phil had to serve as the team's coach for 43 games during which time the Rangers recorded a record of 24-19-0.

Among Esposito's player acquisitions were 40-goal scorer Walt Poddubny, 1985-86 Jennings Trophy winner Bob Froese, and Marcel Dionne, the second leading point scorer in NHL history. Also joining the Rangers for the first time via transactions were Kelly Kisio and Curt Giles, while popular veteran Ron Duguay was reacquired in a deal with the Penguins. Esposito's confidence in some of the Rangers' younger players like Tomas Sandstrom and James Patrick elevated both to All-Star status, while rookies like Terry Carkner, Jeff Jackson and Stu Kulak brought a refreshing young profile to the Rangers.

In his constant search for ways to improve every phase of the team's operation as well as the performance of the players, Esposito worked long and hard in signing an agreement with the Colorado Rangers for the 1987-88 campaign to serve as the organization's primary development affiliate operating out of the International Hockey League. The club's roster will be comprised only of New York Ranger-owned players. "Now, with our own coaches, our own system, and our own training staff, we can properly groom our playing prospects in our own manner," said Esposito. Colorado joins the IHL as an expansion franchise.

Statistics can hardly do justice in the case of Phil Esposito as an active player. There is too much to tell: eight All-Star team selections, six of them to the first team; a pair of Hart Trophies as the NHL's Most Valuable Player; no less than five Ross Trophies as NHL scoring leader, including four in a row from 1971 to 1974; the Lester Patrick Award for contributions to hockey in the United States in 1978; and, ultimately, election to the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1984.

He started his career with the Chicago Blackhawks in 1963-64 before being traded to the Boston Bruins after four years. In eight seasons with the Bruins, he helped propel them to Stanley Cup championships in 1970 and 1972. Phil was dealt to the Rangers in November, 1975, leading the team in scoring in each of his four full seasons before retiring as a player in January of 1981. He joined Madison Square Garden Network as a television commentator in the fall of 1981 and worked in that capacity until accepting his current position.

His 717 career goals in 1282 regular-season games are second only to Gordie Howe (801), and his 1590 points rank him third on the all-time list. In addition, he added 61 goals and 76 assists in 130 lifetime playoff games for 137 points. Phil became the first player in NHL history to score 100 points in a single season during the 1969-70 campaign with 49 goals and 77 assists for 126 points, and two seasons later set single season standards of 76 goals and 152 points, which stood for over a decade until surpassed by Wayne Gretzky. Notched 32 hat tricks in his career and served as Ranger team captain from Nov. 12, 1975 until Oct. 10, 1978.

Many businessmen have motivational sayings, and a sign hangs prominently in the Rangers' offices. It reads—"Enough Waiting." That's Esposito's message to the fans. "I've had enough waiting for a Stanley Cup for this franchise. I've got two Stanley Cup rings and hopefully, I'll be able to retire the older of the two and put a New York Ranger one on." Phil Esposito is working aggressively and enthusiastically to bring a winner to New York. Ranger fans can rest assured of that.

JOE BUCCHINO

Assistant General Manager

Currently in his second season as general manager Phil Esposito's assistant, Joe Bucchino is clearly the man who does it all for the New York Rangers.

Joe works with Esposito on contract negotiations, player trades, and the day-to-day operations of the Rangers from the players on the ice to the entire office staff. In addition, Bucchino works with director of player development, Jack Ferreira, in supervising the scouting staff.

A native of Boston, Massachusetts, Joe was very involved when the Rangers named their new minor league affiliate, the Colorado Rangers of the International Hockey League. Joe will now oversee the operation of the new team along with Ferreira.

Bucchino will expand his horizons this season, by taking to the road and scouting players in the Ontario Hockey League, Western Hockey League, Quebec Hockey League and most of the major colleges.

Joe, 35, got his start as a trainer with the Boston Bruins in 1974, before moving to New York as an assistant trainer in 1978. From there, he moved up the ladder step by step. After two seasons as assistant trainer he was promoted to head trainer in 1980. It took only one year in that capacity before he was moved up to the front office in 1981 as a staff assistant.

Then, in 1983, Bucchino progressed even further when he was named administrative assistant. After two years, Joe was moved up again, this time to the position of manager of team operations, where he really showed just what he could do.

As manager of team operations, he was responsible for making all of the team's travel arrangements, setting up training camp, wearing his head sets behind the Ranger bench and traveling with the team on a full-time basis. In addition, he supervised the entire operation of the Rangers' new practice facility at Rye Playland.

Joe was also responsible for putting a brand new satellite system into the Rangers practice facility, allowing the coaching staff to scout upcoming opponents by television when time does not allow for them to see a game in person.

Bucchino was named to his current position, assistant general manager, shortly after Phil Esposito was tabbed as the Rangers' vice president and general manager in July of 1986.

"Joe is one of the most loyal people I have ever been associated with," said Espo. "I have known him for a very long time and he has always been a very hard working person. I rely on him a great deal."

This past summer, Joe was involved with the Ron Greschner Hockey Camp for the third consecutive year. Bucchino, who is also interested in broadcasting, can be heard on WVIP radio in Mount Kisco, New York, where he hosts a weekly talk show. In addition, he will be the color commentator for 10 of Fox-Lane High School's football games this coming season.

Joe and his wife, Iris, live in Pleasantville with their three-year-old son, Andrew Joseph.

The Bucchinos are very involved in numerous charities, including the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, the Big Brothers Association and Easter Seals.

MICHEL BERGERON

Head Coach

"This is a great day in the history of the New York Rangers," commented Phil Esposito on June 18, when he announced the selection of Michel Bergeron as the 23rd head coach in the club's history. "We are firmly committed to bringing the very best players and management team to New York. In Michel Bergeron, we went out and got what we consider to be the very best coach in the National Hockey League."

Bergeron, 41-years-old, comes to the Rangers after seven highly successful seasons with the Quebec Nordiques. In terms of games worked, he is the second most-experienced coach currently in the National Hockey League, trailing only Edmonton's Glen Sather in that department.

This past season, Bergeron reached a milestone in his NHL career, coaching in his 500th game. Overall, he coached 554 career games, posting 253 victories, 222 losses and 79 ties for a winning percentage of .528. His best NHL season was 1983-84, gaining 94 points on 42 wins and 10 ties. Two seasons later (1985-86), the Nordiques attained 43 wins and 92 points.

Under Bergeron, the Nordiques qualified for the Stanley Cup Playoffs in each of the seven seasons he coached, and the club twice made it to the championship finals of the Prince of Wales Conference. Quebec recorded 90 points or better for three straight seasons, 1983-84 through 1985-86.

Last season, despite being hit by a rash of injuries to several key players, the Nordiques made the playoffs and eliminated Hartford in six games before losing a dramatic seven-game series to the Montreal Canadiens. In order to acquire Bergeron's services from Quebec, the Rangers sent a first round draft choice in the 1988 NHL Entry Draft to the Nordiques.

Over the last couple of seasons, Bergeron carefully developed the Nordiques from just a high-powered offensive machine into a team that successfully blended defense with goal scoring.

In Bergeron, the Rangers have a colorful and outspoken coach whose high-profile style and candor made him easily the most popular sports figure in Quebec City. He is well respected as a motivator and an excellent judge of talent who always gets the most out of his players.

It would certainly be accurate to say Bergeron started at the bottom of the ladder in his climb to the NHL. Having grown up in the Rosemont section of Montreal, he began his coaching career there with a local midget team.

It was in Trois-Rivieres of the Quebec Hockey League that he really proved himself as a head coach. He led Les Draveurs from the cellar to three league championships, taking part twice in the Memorial Cup Tournament. He also coached the league All-Star team on two occasions.

First joined the Nordiques in 1980-81 as an assistant coach to Maurice Filion. Only two weeks into the season he was promoted to head coach leading the team to a 29-29-16 record and a spot in the playoffs.

"I look at my job as coach of the Rangers as a new challenge, almost a new life," Bergeron said. "I'm confident in my ability and looking forward to help build a solid foundation along with a winning and exciting team in 1987-88."

Bergeron and his wife, Michelle, have four children, three daughters (Sophie, 17; Anick, 15; and Karine, 8) and one son (Francis, 16).

Ranger Team Staff

When Phil Esposito became general manager of the New York Rangers on July 14, 1986 he promised that he would make the New York Rangers a winning organization by bringing proven winners to New York. Only 17 days later, Espo began by naming his former Boston Bruin teammate, Wayne Cashman as the Rangers' New England area scout.

Wayne's work ethic and enthusiasm for the Rangers paid off in November when he was named an assistant coach by Esposito, helping in the on-ice preparation of the team.

WAYNE CASHMAN
Assistant Coach

"Wayne was a tremendous hockey player and a great team leader," said Esposito. "He knows a lot about hockey and he is one of the most loyal individuals I have ever known."

Then, on June 18, Michel Bergeron was named as the Rangers head coach and he was quick to announce that "Cash" would be back as one of his assistants.

"Cashman is the type of person that I love to have as an assistant. He gets along well with the players and he really knows the game," said Bergeron.

A 16-year NHL veteran from Kingston, Ontario, Wayne was captain of the Bruins from 1977-78 until his retirement following the 1982-83 campaign.

Cashman, 42, is second on the Bruins' all-time list for games played (1,027); fourth in career assists (516); and fifth in goals (277) and points (793). Helping Boston to two Stanley Cup championships (1969-70 and 1971-72), the left wing played in 145 playoff games (most in Bruins' history).

Wayne, who owns a horse breeding operation, lives in Allentown, Pennsylvania, with his wife, 'Lyn, and their two children, Scott and Becky.

"When it comes to working with young goaltenders, there is nobody better than Eddie Giacomin."

That was what general manager Phil Esposito said when he named Giacomin as goaltending coach and special assignment scout in August of 1986.

ED GIACOMIN
Goaltending Coach

Giacomin, now entering his second season as a coach with the Rangers, works with veterans John Vanbiesbrouck and Bob Froese on puck handling and finesse around the goal crease and he also works with all of the other goaltenders in the system. In February, he is expected to go to the Olympics in Calgary to look at Ranger draft choice Mike Richter, who should be playing with the United States team.

Ed, 48, played for more than 10 years with New York, posting a record of 266-169-90 with a 2.73 goals-against average. The native of Sudbury, Ontario, registered 50 shutouts in his Ranger career (49 in the regular-season and one in the Stanley Cup Playoffs), still a club record.

Following his career with the Rangers, he played two more seasons with the Detroit Red Wings, retiring in December of 1977. A veteran of 610 National Hockey League contests, Giacomin ended his career with 289 wins, 206 losses, 97 ties and a 2.82 average.

After winding up his active career, Ed went on to serve the Rangers, Islanders and Red Wings in a variety of assistant coaching positions. He also served for four years as head coach at Brother Rice High School in Detroit.

Giacomin, who topped off his great career by being elected to the NHL's Hall of Fame in June, lives in Somers, New York, with his wife Marg, and three children, Mark, David and Nancy.

CHARLES THIFFAULT
Assistant Coach

After seven seasons as an assistant to Michel Bergeron with the Quebec Nordiques, Charles Thiffault will begin his first year as an assistant coach with the New York Rangers.

A native of Cap-de-la-Madeline, Quebec, Charles will assist Bergeron with all of the on-ice preparation of the team and he will be responsible for all of the video analyses that the team does. In addition, Thiffault will work with the Rangers' medical trainer and strength conditioning instructor Dave Smith on the physical fitness of all of the players.

"Charlie is one of the most knowledgeable hockey people I have ever come in contact with," said Bergeron. "We were very successful together in Quebec and I know that our successes will carry over to the Rangers."

Thiffault, who holds a Doctorate in Physical Education from the University of Southern California, has an international reputation in the world of hockey both at the amateur and at the professional levels after having taken part in several seminars in the USSR, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, West Germany and the United States.

Before joining the Nordiques, Charles was an instructor at Laval University, where he published several works on the game of hockey and its techniques.

Charles and his wife, Jeanne, have two daughters, Myriam and Christine.

MARCEL DIONNE

1986-87: Second leading point scorer in NHL history became a Ranger on March 10 along with Jeff Crossman and a 1989 third round draft choice in exchange for Bob Carpenter and Tom Laidlaw . . . Made his Ranger debut on March 11 against the Bruins and notched his initial goal the following night, a power play score in Philadelphia . . . Put together a three-game goal scoring streak from March 25-March 30 against New Jersey, St. Louis and Minnesota . . . Appeared in 81 regular-season contests, 67 with Los Angeles and 14 with New York . . . Collected 24 goals and 50 assists for 74 points while with the Kings including scoring his 1,600th career point on Oct. 9 vs. St. Louis . . . Most productive outing for the Kings was a four-point (two goals, two assists) effort on Nov. 25 against the Canucks.

NHL CAREER: Begins his 17th National Hockey League campaign second to Gordie Howe in career scoring, 1,683 to 1,850, third in goals with 693, behind Howe (801) and Phil Esposito (717); second in assists with 990, behind Howe (1,049) . . . He is the last player before Wayne Gretzky to win the Art Ross Trophy as the NHL's leading scorer when he tallied 137 points in 1979-80 . . . Twice has won the Lady Byng Trophy as the NHL's most gentlemanly player and was a first team All-Star selection in 1976-77 and 1979-80 . . . His 28 lifetime hat tricks ties him with Bobby Hull for the fourth most in league history . . . Finished his career with Los Angeles as the franchise's leading all-time scorer with a total of 1,307 points . . . Set NHL record for points by a rookie in 1971-72 (broken by Bryan Trottier in 1975-76) and established record for shorthand goals (10) in single season, 1974-75 (broken by Gretzky in 1983-84) . . . On January 7, 1981, he collected his 1,000th NHL point in his 740th NHL game, the fastest in history (since broken by Guy Lafleur and Gretzky) . . . Led Kings in scoring for eight consecutive seasons thru the 1982-83 campaign . . . Holds NHL record for 40-goal seasons with 10 and 100-point seasons with eight . . . Selected as the Kings' MVP on eight different occasions . . . Other accomplishments include two six-point games, three four-goal performances, and has recorded five assists in a single contest twice . . . Drafted by the Red Wings in the first round, second overall (Lafleur was selected first) in 1971 . . . Averaged over 90 points per season in his four years with Detroit leading the team in scoring three of the four seasons . . . Signed as a free agent with Los Angeles on June 23, 1975.

JUNIOR CAREER: Had spectacular three-season career with the St. Catharines Black Hawks . . . Won back-to-back league scoring titles in '69-70 (132 points) and '70-71 (143 points) . . . Collected his point total in '70-71 in only 46 games, missing 14 contests with a broken collarbone . . . Selected as a second team OHA All-Star in 1969-70 and a first team All-Star in 1970-71 . . . Was team captain during the '70-71 campaign, highlighted by an incredible total of 64 points in 22 playoff outings . . . Three-year totals established a league record as he compiled 214 goals and 293 assists for 507 points during the regular-season and playoffs.

PERSONAL: Enjoys playing golf, tennis and softball during the off-season . . Has two brothers and five sisters . . . Lists Bobby Orr as the greatest player he has ever seen play the game . . . Married, wife, Carol; daughter, Lisa; sons, Garrett and Drew.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Detroit's first round choice (2nd overall) in 1971 Amateur Draft. Signed as a free agent with Los Angeles, June 23, 1975. CURT GILES

1986-87: Made his Ranger debut on Nov. 14 against Philadelphia following the transaction the previous day that brought him and Tony McKegney to New York for Bob Brooke and a 1988 second round draft choice . . . Initial point as a Ranger was an assist on the first of McKegney's four goals in 8-5 victory in Vancouver on Nov.21 . . . Appeared in 61 of the Rangers 65 games after joining team . . . Did not dress for Nov. 22 and Jan. 12 contests and an injured back sidelined him for a pair of games (Jan. 31 & Feb. 1) . . . Both his goals were notched against the Islanders, Dec. 31 at the Garden and March 21 at the Coliseum . . . Registered a plus four rating in 7-5 victory over the Islanders on March 4 . . . Played in his 500th NHL contest on Dec. 26 in New Jersey . . . Suffered a shoulder injury in the fifth game of the playoff series against the Flyers.

NHL CAREER: North Stars drafted him on the fourth round of the 1978 Amateur Draft and he made his debut on Oct. 14, 1979 at Buffalo . . . Was dispatched to Oklahoma City for some seasoning early in the campaign . . . Rejoined team in January when injuries depleted the defense corps and spent the next seven seasons with the NHL team until being swapped to the Rangers . . . In his first full season ('80-81) with Minnesota he won the Bill Masterton Memorial Cup awarded to the North Stars player chosen most valuable by his teammates . . . Led Minnesota defensemen with a plus 15 rating in 1981-82 . . . Won North Stars' Emery Award Edge Award in '84-85 (+4) and again in 1985-86 (+19) . . . Best offensive season was '84-85 campaign when he tallied 30 points (five goals, 25 assists) and was once again selected as the team's MVP . . . Appeared in a total of 70 playoff games in his seven seasons with Minnesota.

COLLEGE CAREER: Enrolled at Minnesota-Duluth when he was only 16 and played four years of varsity hockey at the school . . . Twice selected as an All-American . . . Collected 137 points in 101 games during his last three seasons.

PERSONAL: Served as an alternate captain his last three seasons with North Stars . . . Master of a devastating hip check that has left more than a few opponents airborne . . . Wore uniform number 2 while with Minnesota . . . Earned his degree in secondary education at UMD . . . Enjoys golf and softball during the summer . . . Is active in raising funds for research and treatment of spina bifida . . . Married: wife, Mary Pat; daughter, Ashley; son, Michael.

RON GRESCHNER

1986-87: Ranger captain played most of the season at center, occasionally moving back to his original defense position . . . Broke a bone in his left foot in a pre-season match in San Francisco on Oct. 2 and missed the first 16 games of the campaign . . . Returned on Nov. 14 and notched a goal and four assists in his first five games back . . . 34 assists were six more then the previous year and ranked sixth on the club . . . Exactly half of his assists came while the Rangers were on a power play . . . All six of his regular-season goals came on the road . . . Played in his 800th NHL game on Feb. 22 against Pittsburgh . . . Notched his 400th career assist on Feb. 24 on a goal by Jan Erixon vs. the Sabres . . . Five assists in the playoffs led the club . . . Registered seven assists in six games against the Devils and two goals and four assists in four games vs. the Islanders.

NHL CAREER: Selected by the Rangers in the second round of the 1974 Amateur Draft from New Westminster of the WCHL, he played only seven games with Providence of the AHL before making his debut with New York on Nov. 3, 1974 . . . Set Ranger record for assists (37) by a rookie defensemen which was broken in 1981-82 by Reijo Ruotsalainen (38) . . . Became the highest scoring defensemen in Ranger history on Nov. 11, 1981 when his assist on Dave Silk's goal brought his career total to 379, one more than Brad Park accumulated as a Ranger . . . Shoulder separations sidelined him for parts of '78-'79 and '84-'85 and back miseries cost him considerable playing time in '81-'82 and '82-'83 campaigns . . . In his 13 years with the Rangers, he has 176 goals (14th on the all-time list), 407 assists (5th on the all-time list), 583 points (6th on the all-time list) and 997 penalty minutes (4th on the all-time list) . . . Of his 176 career goals, 51 have been on the power play, 19 have been game-winners and six have been shorthanded, while 85 have been scored at the Garden and 91 have come on the road . . . Best career goal scoring has come against the Islanders (19) and Vancouver (15) . . . Only hat trick of his career was on Mar. 22, 1978 at St. Louis against goaltender Phil Myre . . . Selected for the 1979 All-Star team . . . Scored on a penalty shot, Oct. 28, 1980 against goaltender Mike Liut of the St. Louis Blues.

JUNIOR CAREER: Scored 56 goals and 126 assists for 182 points in 179 games in his three years at New Westminster of the Western Hockey League . . . In 1973-74, his last year with the Bruins, he became the team captain, while setting a WHL record for most points by a defensemen in one season—103, breaking the record of former Ranger Larry Sacharuk . . . Was also selected to the All-Star team that season.

PERSONAL: Very busy summer included making a work out video with his wife Carol Alt, playing a movie extra while Carol made an Italian movie in Rome and traveling throughout Europe . . . Took time out of his hectic schedule to do some charity work for the club in May and June . . . "Gresch" is the ultimate team leader, who has never lost his enthusiasm for the game . . . Helped out Governor Cuomo, along with teammates Don Maloney, Bob Froese and James Patrick, by doing a commercial for "Athletes Against Drunk Driving" in March . . . Runs a hockey camp for three weeks in August at Rye Playland . . . His wife has appeared on the cover of over 400 magazines.

JEFF JACKSON

1986-87: Obtained from Toronto with the Maple Leaf's third round choice in the 1989 Entry Draft for Mark Osborne on March 5 . . . Made his Ranger debut playing alongside two other newcomers, Marcel Dionne and Ron Duguay, on March 11 against Boston, but suffered a pulled groin muscle in the contest and missed the next five outings . . . Back in action on March 21, he responded with five goals in final six games of season including a pair against St. Louis in New York's 6-4 victory on March 27 . . . Appeared in all six playoff contests recording a goal in 6-3 win over Flyers in fourth game of series . . . Spent some time early in the campaign with Newmarket of the AHL, nine points in seven games, before joining the Leafs and recording eight goals and seven assists in 55 matches . . . First two goals of the season, along with an assist helped lead Toronto to an 8-2 victory over Washington . . . Goal at 17:43 of first period against the Rangers enabled Maple Leafs to tie game at 2-2 on the way to a 5-4 triumph over New York on Feb. 8.

NHL CAREER: Chosen by Toronto in the second round of the 1983 Entry Draft, he made his NHL debut on Oct. 11, 1984 . . . Split his season between the Maple Leafs (17 games) and Hamilton of the OHL (20 games) . . . Up briefly with Toronto in '85-86, he tallied his first NHL goal against Steve Weeks of Hartford on Dec. 28 and contributed two assists in a 3-2 victory over Montreal on Jan. 1 . . . Has 14 goals in 86 NHL outings, including three against St. Louis and two each vs. Boston, Hartford and Washington.

AHL CAREER: Spent almost the entire '85-86 season with the St. Catharines Saints finishing as the team's 5th leading scorer with 45 points (17 goals, 28 assists) in 74 games . . . Among his teammates for part of the season was Walt Poddubny . . . Tied for 3rd on the Saints during the playoffs with five goals in 13 games as St. Catharines bowed to Hershey in the semi-final round, four games to three.

JUNIOR CAREER: Spent 1982-83 and 1983-84 seasons with the Brantford Alexanders of the OHL recording 112 points in 122 games over the two campaigns . . . Selected Brantford's Most Valuable Player in 1984 . . . Team moved to Hamilton in '84-85, but injuries curtailed his regular-season playing time to only 20 games, but he still managed 13 goals and 14 assists . . . Enjoyed an outstanding playoff series, ranking as the Steelhawks second leading scorer with 20 points in 17 contests . . . Was a member of the gold medal Canadian Junior National Team in the 1984 World Championships.

PERSONAL: Came to the Rangers with a reputation as an aggressive hard working type of player known for his toughness . . . Spent the off-season traveling to Hawaii and London and playing softball, golf and tennis . . . Lists Bryan Trottier of the Islanders as his childhood hero . . . Wore uniform number 12 while with Toronto . . . Single.

CHRIS JENSEN

1986-87: Split his second professional season between the Rangers and New Haven of the American Hockey League . . . Began the campaign with the Rangers, playing in four of the club's first five games before going down with a rotator cuff injury on Oct. 19 . . . Was sent to the Nighthawks for rehabilitation on Oct. 31 and returned to New York on Nov. 11 . . . Appeared in 26 of the Rangers next 38 contests before being returned to New Haven on Feb. 3 . . . Was summoned back to New York on Feb. 14 and played in six of the next ten games, before being sent to the Nighthawks on Mar. 6 for the remainder of the season . . . Injured his arm in a game at New Haven on Mar. 18, and was lost for the rest of the year . . . Notched six goals and seven assists for 13 points in 37 games with the Rangers and four goals and nine assists for 13 points in 14 AHL contests . . . Recorded the first two-goal game of his National Hockey League career in Quebec on Jan. 3 . . . Of his six goals with the Rangers, two were game-winners and one was shorthanded . . . Recorded two goals and two assists in three games vs. Edmonton.

NHL CAREER: Originally drafted by the Rangers on the fourth round of the 1982 Entry Draft (78th overall), but chose to attend North Dakota rather than turn pro . . . Played in his first NHL game in Calgary on Mar. 6, 1986, and scored his first goal five days later, Mar. 11 against New Jersey . . . That goal was also his first point as a pro, and it proved to be the game-winner as the Rangers came from behind to beat the Devils, 6-3 . . . Played on a line with rookies Mike Ridley and Kelly Miller in his first game, registering four shots on goal.

COLLEGE CAREER: Joined New York after four highly successful seasons with the Fighting Sioux of North Dakota University . . . In his senior year (1985-86), he led North Dakota in scoring with 25 goals and 40 assists for 65 points in 34 games, helping the Fighting Sioux to a 24-16-1 record . . . That season he also had a 10-game goal scoring streak, while playing on a line with left wing, Bob Joyce, a Boston Bruins draftee and center Brian Williams, a draft choice of the Montreal Canadiens . . . Final collegiate totals came to more than a point per game, with 77 goals and 95 assists for 172 points in 131 games . . . Contributed 29 power play goals, 11 game-winners, and three hat tricks during his college career . . . Of his three hat tricks, one was in his final game as a collegiate player . . . KELLY KISIO

1986-87: Missed seven games at the outset of the season with a dislocated left shoulder but still finished with a career high 24 goals and his 64 points ranked him fourth on the Rangers . . . Most productive scoring came at the expense of the Devils, six goals and four assists, for 10 points in six games, including his first career hat trick on Dec. 26 in New Jersey . . . Had a pair of two-goal efforts and on two occasions he recorded three assists in a single match . . . Scored 15 of his 24 goals at the Garden, while also contributing six go-ahead scores, six tying goals, and the Rangers' opening marker of the game seven times . . . Spent most of the second half of the campaign playing right wing . . . Switched from number 16 to 11, giving up the number he wore throughout his NHL career to Marcel Dionne . . . A sprained right ankle sidelined him for the final two regular-season games and hampered his play during the playoffs.

NHL CAREER: Scored at least 20 goals in each of his three full seasons with Red Wings after signing as a free agent in 1983 . . . Finished fourth in NHL rookie scoring in 1983-84 with 60 points and was Detroit's Emery Edge Trophy winner with a plus 16 rating . . . Scored two goals against Buffalo in his third outing with Detroit on March 6, 1983 . . . Fifth on the Red Wings in scoring in '84-85 with 61 points, led the team in assists (48) in '85-86 and was third in total points (69) . . . Missed only 14 games in his three years with Detroit due to injuries . . . Best career goal scoring has come against New Jersey and Toronto with 11 vs. each, and Minnesota and Chicago, netting 10 vs. each of those Norris Division opponents.

AHL AND CHL CAREER: Split 1980-81 season between Adirondack of the AHL and Kalamazoo of the IHL . . . Spent the 1981-82 season with Dallas of the Central Hockey League leading all players in goals with 62 . . . During the playoffs, he topped all participants with 12 goals and 29 points, in addition to tying for the lead in assists with 17.

JUNIOR CAREER: Was outstanding scorer in junior ranks for Calgary of Western Hockey League, notching 121 points (60 goals, 61 assists) in 1978-79 and 138 points (65 goals, 73 assists) the next season.

PERSONAL: Very strong for his size, excellent in corners, able to absorb a check and bounce back with a minimum loss of speed or skill . . . Enjoys golf, softball, and fishing during the summer . . . Has also taught at several hockey schools past three years . . . Married: wife, Linda; two sons, Brent and Curtis.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed as a free agent by Detroit, March, 1983. Traded from Detroit to New York with Lane Lambert, Jim Leavins and a 1988 fifth round draft choice for Glen Hanlon and third round draft choices in 1987 and 1988, July 29, 1986.

STU KULAK

1986-87: Acquired by the Rangers from the Edmonton Oilers on March 10 as part of the future considerations in the trade that brought Don Jackson to New York on Oct. 2 . . . Made his Ranger debut on March 14 in Pittsburgh playing on a line with Ron Greschner and George McPhee . . . Unfortunately, he continued the Ranger tradition of the '86-87 campaign by being injured in the first period of his initial contest with New York . . . Was struck in the left eye by a Mario Lemieux shot at 13:20 of the opening stanza suffering a cut (24 stitches) above and below the left eye and a slight fracture of the orbit causing him to miss the next nine matches . . . Returned for the final two regular-season games and appeared in three of New York's playoff contests . . . Began the season with the Vancouver Canucks scoring one goal and one assist in 28 tilts . . . Was snared by the Oilers in early December when the Canucks tried to sneak him through waivers and send him to the minor leagues . . . Recorded three goals in 23 outings with Edmonton including the game-winner in 7-4 victory over the Rangers on Jan. 23.

NHL CAREER: Vancouver's fifth round selection in the 1981 Entry Draft, he had a brief stint with the Canucks in December of 1982 . . . Appeared in four NHL contests, making his debut on Dec. 16 and notching his first goal a week later against Rejean Lemelin of Calgary . . . Became one of the first hockey players to suffer the feared abdominal muscle pull and had the problem go undiagnosed for the longest time . . . Attended the Canucks' training camp in 1984-85 but was unable to play . . . Finally, doctors found the trouble, operated on him, and mid-way through the 1985-86 season he returned to action with Kalamazoo of the International League . . . Was in the Canucks' lineup on opening night of the '86-87 season contributing an assist in 4-3 win over the St. Louis Blues.

AHL AND IHL CAREER: Spent the 1983-84 season with Fredericton of the AHL collecting 12 goals and 16 assists in 52 contests . . . Dressed for three games with Fredericton in '85-86 following his stomach surgery . . . Majority of the '85-86 campaign was with Kalamazoo of the IHL (14 goals, eight assists).

JUNIOR CAREER: Played three full seasons with the Victoria Cougars of the Western Hockey League . . . Best scoring campaign was 1981-82 when he registered 38 goals and 50 assists for 88 points in 71 games . . . Had an outstanding playoff series with the Cougars in '82-83, 10 goals and nine assists for 19 points in only 10 contests.

PERSONAL: Good skater, very aggressive type player, works the corners and does not back away from body contact . . . Affable, friendly, has a good sense of humor . . . Wore uniform 16 with Vancouver, number 8 with Edmonton, and uniform number 18 with the Rangers . . . Enjoys fishing and softball during the summer months . . . Single.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Vancouver's fifth round choice (115th overall) in 1981 Entry Draft. Obtained on waivers by Edmonton, December 11, 1986. Traded by Edmonton to New York as part of compensation for Oct. 2 transaction.

DON MALONEY

1986-87: Non-stop efforts were rewarded as he more than doubled his point total from previous season, recording 57 as compared to 28 in 1985-86 campaign . . . Tied three Ranger records, registering five assists on Jan. 3 in Quebec City, collecting a pair of shorthanded goals on Jan. 14 in Calgary, and scoring two goals in eight seconds on Mar. 12 in Philadelphia . . . Plus seven rating was fourth best mark on team . . . Milestones reached included collecting his 400th point on Oct. 13 against the Capitals and appearing in his 500th game on Nov. 14 vs. the Flyers . . . Goal scoring breakdown: six in first half of the season and 13 in final 40 games, 11 on the road and eight at home, nine of the 19 against Patrick Division opponents . . . Missed eight contests with a separated left shoulder that sidelined him from Mar. 18 - Apr. 4 returning for the final regular-season match . . . Tallied two goals in game two of playoff series against the Flyers.

NHL CAREER: Recorded his first two NHL points, a goal and an assist, only six minutes into his initial contest on Feb. 14, 1979 against the Bruins at Madison Square Garden . . . Notched the three fastest goals in Rangers' history by beating Mike Palmateer of Washington within a span of 2:20 on Feb. 21, 1981 . . . Ranger record holder for game-winning goals with nine in 1980-81 and shares club mark for shorthanded goals with five, also in 1980-81 . . . Is ninth on the Rangers' all-time point scoring list (456), 12th in goals scored (179), and ninth in assists (277) . . . 35 career playoff assists is most in Ranger history and 57 points is second highest total . . . Selected as MVP in 1983-84 NHL All-Star game when he led Wales Conference to 7-6 victory with four points (one goal, three assists) . . . Nine-year Ranger totals show 109 goals at home and 70 on the road, 49 on the power play, 14 shorthanded and 25 game-winners.

AHL CAREER: Played half a season with New Haven, recording 18 goals and 26 assists in 38 contests during 1978-79 season . . . When campaign opened he was on the injury list with a broken thumb, but when he finally got into the lineup, he led the Nighthawks to a record of 11-1-1 in his first 13 games.

JUNIOR CAREER: Played his entire junior career with the Kitchener Rangers where he was mostly a feeder not a goal scorer . . . Most productive offensive season was '77-78 when he finished with 30 goals and 74 assists for 104 points. 10th highest total in OHA . . . Played with Doug Sulliman, the Rangers' first choice in the 1979 Entry Draft.

PERSONAL: Without a doubt, one of the most popular Rangers on and off the ice as evidenced by his selection in 1986-87 to the Players' Player Award, marking the third time he has won this prestigious award . . . Older brother, Dave, was a Ranger defenseman from 1974-75 – 1984-85 . . . The two hadn't played competitively with each other for 12 years until he joined Rangers . . . Another brother, Bob, earned a football scholarship to Simon Fraser University in Vancouver . . . Don has spent the past two off-seasons working on Wall Street . . . Very involved in numerous charitable activities including working with 1,500 youngsters in the Mobil Big Apple Games and serving as the honorary chairman of the Easter Seals Society in the Westchester area . . . Has done some announcing work for MSG Network . . . Married: wife, Toni.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Rangers second round choice (26th overall) in 1978 Amateur Draft.

BRIAN MULLEN

1986-87: The native of Hell's Kitchen came back home on June 8 when he was obtained from the Winnipeg Jets for a pair of future draft picks . . . In 69 games with the Jets last season, he scored 19 goals, the first time in five NHL seasons he failed to score at least 20 . . . Played most of the campaign on Winnipeg's top line with Dale Hawerchuk and Paul MacLean . . . His total of 51 points ranked him third on the Jets, seven power play goals was the team's second highest mark and his four-game winners tied him for second behind MacLean's six . . . Tallied four goals in nine playoff outings, two of them on the power play . . . Appeared in 49 of Winnipeg's first 50 contests, scoring 36 points, but dressed for only 20 of the final 30 outings, collecting 15 points . . . Six of his 19 goals were notched against Calgary.

NHL CAREER: First New York City player to be drafted directly from a local New York team when the Jets selected him on the 7th round of the 1980 Entry Draft from the New York Westsiders of the Metropolitan Junior Hockey League . . . Played in all 80 games in his rookie season ('82-83) with Winnipeg scoring 24 goals and leading the team with a plus 11 rating . . . In 1983-84, he tallied 21 goals and tied for the club lead with four shorthanded scores . . . Despite a mid-season knee injury that sidelined him for 11 games, Mullen recorded a career high 31 goals and 71 points in 1984-85 . . . 13 of his 28 goals in '85-86 were notched on the power play and he tallied his first NHL hat trick on March 19 in the Jets' 6-4 victory over Montreal . . . 39 of his 124 career goals have been scored on the power play . . . Best lifetime goal totals have come against three Smythe Division opponents, 16 vs. Calgary, 15 vs. Vancouver, and 11 against Edmonton.

COLLEGE CAREER: Played for two seasons under Bob Johnson at the University of Wisconsin . . . Chosen as his team's rookie of the year in '80-81 contributing 11 goals and 13 assists in 38 games and was instrumental in leading the Badgers to the NCAA Championship . . . In his sophomore season he potted 19 goals and 16 assists in 31 contests netting four on the power play and five while his team was shorthanded . . . Wisconsin went to the NCAA Championship game that year before losing to North Dakota.

PERSONAL: Younger brother of Joe Mullen of the Calgary Flames . . . Worked as a stickboy at the Garden where his father worked for many years on the maintenance crew . . . Was a science major while in college . . . Wore uniform number 19 in his five seasons with Winnipeg . . . While growing up in New York, he developed an affinity for hockey, playing the game on roller skates . . . Married: wife, Linda.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Winnipeg's seventh round choice (128th overall) in 1980 Entry Draft. Traded by Winnipeg to New York with a 1987 10th round draft choice for a fifth round draft pick in 1988 and a third round pick in 1989, June 8, 1987.

WALT PODDUBNY

1986-87: Rangers leading scorer in his first season with New York, collecting 87 points, which ranked him 15th in the NHL and was the 10th highest total in Rangers history . . . Selected as the team's MVP by the media winning the West Side Association Trophy and also capturing the Rangers' Fan Club's Frank Boucher Trophy . . . Started the season with six goals and 14 assists in his first 11 games and finished the campaign with five goals and 11 assists in his last 14 outings . . . Scored his 40th goal on March 30, 11th time in Rangers' history that plateau has been reached . . . Registered his first NHL four-assist game on Oct. 22 vs. Los Angeles and his third career hat trick on Dec. 5 at Winnipeg . . . Led New York with a plus 16 rating and was second in power play goals with 11 . . . Had a 15-game point-scoring streak from Jan. 11 to Feb. 17, which was third best in the NHL . . . Tallied two goals in a game on four occasions, had a pair of four-point efforts and eight three-point games . . . Played mostly center, but spent several games at left wing . . . Missed five games with various injuries.

NHL CAREER: Drafted by Edmonton on the fourth round in 1980, he made his NHL debut in 1981-82, appearing in four games with the Oilers . . . Was dealt to Toronto with Phil Drouillard for Laurie Boschman in March of 1982 . . . In his first season with the Maple Leafs ('82-83), he scored 28 goals and broke Howie Meeker's Toronto record for a rookie . . . Recorded a plus nine rating and was selected as Toronto's Emery Edge winner . . . Injuries limited him to less than 40 games in each of his next three seasons with the Maple Leafs . . . Scored four goals (three game-winners) in 1986 playoffs for Toronto . . . Has 30 power goals among his 99 career goals, while his best production has come against Detroit and Winnipeg, with 10 goals vs. each opponent.

CHL AND AHL CAREER: Began the 1980-81 season with Milwaukee of the International Hockey League (four goals and five assists in five games) before moving up to Wichita of the Central Hockey League where he tallied 50 points in 70 games and recorded 207 penalty minutes . . . Returned to Wichita the following season and upped his point production to 81 in 60 matches, including 35 goals . . . Played briefly in the American Hockey League in '84-85, (appearing in eight games) with St. Catharines . . . Made two different stops at St. Catharines in 1985-86 and compiled 28 goals and 27 assists for 55 points in 37 contests, including seven power play goals and six game-winners.

JUNIOR CAREER: Played only one full season of Junior A hockey at 19 years of age beginning the '79-80 campaign with Kitchener of the OHA . . . Was traded to Kingston after only 19 games and responded by notching 30 goals and 17 assists in 43 tilts.

PERSONAL: June marriage to Tammy Kane of Thunder Bay, Ontario highlighted his off-season . . . His easy going personality and tongue-in-cheek sense of humor have helped make him one of the team's most popular players . . . Is an avid wrestling fan, nicknamed "Sarge" while in Toronto, because of a picture he had taken with wrestling star Sargeant Slaughter . . . Enjoys music videos and old movies and has most of the Three Stooges videos especially those featuring Curly . . . Wore uniform number 14 with Edmonton and 8 with Toronto.

TOMAS SANDSTROM

1986-87: Established himself as one of the top snipers in the National Hockey League with a career high 40 goals in only 64 games . . . Notched his 40th tally with one second remaining in the contest against Washington on April 1, making him the 11th player in Ranger history to score 40 goals in one season . . . Began the campaign by registering 17 points in his first 10 games . . . Set a Ranger record with four hat tricks during the season; notching his first career three-goal effort on New Year's Eve vs. the Islanders, recording his first four-goal game on Jan. 11 against Vancouver, and adding hat tricks on Jan. 14 at Calgary and Mar. 4 vs. the Islanders . . . Recorded 33 goals over his last 37 encounters . . . Was selected to play for the NHL All-Stars vs. the Russian team in Rendez-Vous '87, but fractured his right ankle in the first game of the three game series and missed the Rangers' next nine matches . . . Also missed six games earlier in the season with a hip-pointer . . . Played in his 200th NHL contest on Mar. 12 in Philadelphia . . . In addition to his four-goal game and three hat tricks, he notched four two-goal performances and three overtime goals . . . 24 of his 40 goals were vs. Patrick Division teams . . . 13 power play goals led New York . . . Had the Rangers longest goal scoring streak of the season, five games from Jan. 14 to Jan. 26 . . . Was the Rangers leading scorer against Calgary, Los Angeles, the Islanders, Philadelphia and Vancouver . . . Registered a goal and two assists in six playoff contests.

NHL CAREER: Has led the Rangers in goal scoring in each of his first three seasons . . First NHL goal, on opening night in 1984, enabled Rangers to tie Hartford, 4-4, with only 1:09 remaining in third period . . . Went on to score 29 goals to lead New York and to finish third among all NHL rookies behind Mario Lemieux (43) and Warren Young (40) . . . 29 goals was the third highest total ever by a Ranger rookie . . . Was a member of the NHL's All-Rookie team that year . . . Best career goal scoring has come against the Devils (11), the Islanders (11) and Philadelphia (9) . . . Of his 94 career goals, 26 have come on the power play, nine have been game-winners and two have been shorthanded while 52 have been scored at the Garden and 42 have come on the road.

SWEDISH CAREER: Was only 17 when the Rangers made him their second pick in the 1982 Entry Draft from Farjestads in Sweden . . . Remained in Sweden, playing for the Brynas team, while attending carpentry school and completing his compulsory seven-month hitch in the Swedish army . . . Scored 70 goals in 111 games during his three years in the Swedish league . . . Has played on the Swedish Junior team, the Swedish National team and the Olympic team that won a bronze medal in Sarajevo in 1984.

PERSONAL: Was born in Jakobstad, Finland, but moved to Fagersta, Sweden when he was a child . . . Softspoken and likable off the ice, he is very aggressive and feisty on the ice . . . Scores many of his goals, with a hard, accurate slapshot that baffles opposing goaltenders . . . Goes back to Sweden each summer just to relax and get ready for the upcoming season. . . . Single.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Rangers second round choice (36th overall) in 1982 Entry Draft.

A BUSY OFF-SEASON INDEED

JAYSON MORE 1/10 D/R 6-1 190 1/12/69 Souris, Manitoba
Traded from Brandon to New Westminster in early December . . . Registered eight goals and 29 assists for 37 points in 64 games with New Westminster with 217 penalty minutes . . . He is a defenseman that can rush the puck and use his body to move men out well in front of the net . . . Very physical, he is tough and has a mean streak . . . Went to Brandon after Lethbridge folded . . . Was named Rookie of the Year at Lethbridge for the 1983-84 season.

DANIEL LACROIX 2/31 LW/L 6-2 185 3/11/69 Montreal, Quebec
Strong winger who plays an up and down style . . . Very strong in the corners and he goes to the net well . . . Tenacious checker who comes back hard and sticks to his man . . . Was a first year player at Granby last year where he scored nine goals and 16 assists with 311 penalty minutes in 54 games . . . Played on a line with Pierre Turgeon, the first player selected in the draft.

SIMON GAGNE 3/46 RW/R 6-4 200 9/29/68 Montreal, Quebec
Played the last two seasons with Laval of the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League after spending the 1984-85 season with Shawinigan . . . This past season he helped Laval to the finals of the QMJHL . . . Was one of the fastest skaters in training camp . . . Has tremendous acceleration and speed . . . Has a good hard slapshot and wristshot.

MICHAEL SULLIVAN 4/69 C/L 6-2 185 2/27/68 Marshfield, MA
Just finished his first year at Boston University, where he was the fifth leading scorer with 13 goals and 18 assists for 31 points . . . Was named Catholic Conference MVP in his last year at Boston College High School accumulating 26 goals and 33 assists for 59 points in 22 games . . . Is described as a tough, aggressive player that can score goals several different ways . . . Is also a crisp passer and he leads his man well.

ERIK O'BORSKY 5/94 C/L 6-3 215 6/2/68 Los Angeles, CA
Entered Yale University this season after four years at Hutchinson High School in Minnesota . . . At 215 pounds he was the biggest player the Rangers selected . . . Was an all-conference linebacker in high school . . . Also played tennis and baseball and ran the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes.

LUDEK CAJKA 6/115 D/R 6-3 200 11/3/63 Czechoslovakia
Was the first Czechoslovakian player ever selected by the Rangers . . . Was the defensive partner for Ranger prospect Miloslav Horava on the Czech National Team . . . Excelled in the World Championship in Vienna . . . Will most likely play in the Canada Cup and the Olympics.

CLINT THOMAS 7/136 D/L 6-3 180 2/10/69 Anchorage, AK
Will enter Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute this season . . . Excelled in two post season tournaments, a midget tournament in Maine and Hockey Night in Boston . . . He is a good skating defenseman, especially for his size . . . Has a lot of raw talent that should develop at RPI . . . Played high school hockey at Bartlett High School in Alaska.

CHUCK WIEGAND 8/157 C/L 6-1 175 12/28/68 Burlington, Vermont
A very exciting player who is creative with the puck . . . Also played in Hockey Night in Boston . . . Was captain of the Essex Junction High School team in Vermont . . . Will enter New Hampton Prep School in New Hampton, New Hampshire.

ERIC BURRILL 9/178 RW/R 6-3 190 2/4/69 St. Paul, MN
Scored 24 goals in 22 games for Tartan High School in Minneapolis last season . . . Was also an all-state goalkeeper in soccer . . . He has a lot of speed and quickness . . . Very tough and aggressive and he is a competitor.

DAVID PORTER 10/199 LW/L 6-1 170 6/2/67 Milford, MI
Played at Northern Michigan last season, where he was their sixth leading scorer with 10 goals and 12 assists for 22 points in 39 games . . . Plays a very hard, physical style and he is a good two way player.

BRET BARNETT 10/205 RW/L 6-3 185 10/12/67 Toronto, Ontario
Will be entering Lake Superior State where Frank Anzalone the coach predicts that he will be the sleeper of his recruiting class . . . Played for the Wexford Junior B team in Ontario last season . . . Very versatile, he can play all three forward positions . . . Creative with the puck.

LANCE MARCIANO 11/220 D/R 6-2 200 12/12/69 Mount Vernon, NY
A stay at home defenseman who is very physical . . . Has a hard, accurate slapshot . . . Will be entering Yale this season . . . Played at Choate High School in Connecticut last year.

Ed Giacomin's Long Haul to the Hall

Below, Eddie makes it to the Hall of Fame. He was presented into the Hall by long-time friend Hugh Delano of The New York Post.

Off-Season Was a Busy Time for the Rangers

The hockey season may have officially ended in May, but many of the Rangers worked throughout the summer months, primarily in charitable endeavors.

Most hockey players are avid golfers, and the Rangers are no exception to that rule. Pierre Larouche, following through, and John Vanbiesbrouck, lining up a putt, played in tournaments to benefit Multiple Sclerosis and Juvenile Diabetes.

All in all, a busy off-season for the Rangers—and all for a good cause.

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

The Garden, now at its third site and fourth building since first being named in 1879, is a multi-facility complex which includes the 20,000-seat Arena, 4,500-seat Felt Forum, spacious Exposition Rotunda and modern Bowling Center. Close to five million people annually visit the Garden to enjoy close to 600 games/shows/events.

The fourth and present Garden opened in 1968, at its Pennsylvania Plaza site, bounded by Seventh and Eighth Avenues and 31st and 33rd Streets and standing above Pennsylvania Station. The home of the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association and New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, the Garden is also known throughout the world as the site for such diverse sports as boxing, tennis, track and field, gymnastics, wrestling, horse and dog shows, college basketball and hockey, martial arts, soccer, rodeo and bowling and for a variety of entertainment and other events including circus, ice shows, concerts, stage musicals, international dance and performing companies, conventions, graduations and meetings, trade shows and exhibitions.

The first Garden was located at Madison Square, 26th Street and Madison Avenue. The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, was officially named Madison Square Garden May 31, 1879, after being preceded at the site by P.T. Barnum's "Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome" and "Gilmore's Gardens," named for noted band impresario Patrick S. Gilmore.

When problems with the first Garden became too much to overcome, a corporation was organized to construct a new building. Demolition of the old structure began in 1889 and a new, roofed Garden with a 320-foot tower designed by famed New York architect Stanford White was opened June 16, 1890 with a concert by Viennese conductor Eduard Strauss and his orchestra.

Thirty-four years later, Garden II came to the end of its glory when the New York Life Insurance Company, which held a mortgage on the land, decided to demolish the building in 1924. George (Tex) Rickard, a well-known boxing promoter, organized a group to undertake the construction of another Garden at a different site.

Trolley car barns were torn down on a site between 49th and 50th Streets on Eighth Avenue for the third Garden. The building was constructed in 249 days and opened unofficially November 28, 1925 with the six-day bike races. The official opening event, on December 15, was a professional hockey game with the Montreal Canadiens defeating the New York Americans, 3-1. Under the leadership of Rickard and, later, General John Reed Kilpatrick, Ned Irish and Irving Mitchell Felt, the Garden steadily increased in stature.

Garden IV opened February 11, 1968 with a superstar-studded "Salute to the USO" concert. The new sports and entertainment showplace is still recognized as a magnificent complex representing a major achievement in modern construction with a circular, cable-suspended roof above the arena facility and an adjacent 290-story office building.

Madison Sqaure Garden, which became a subsidiary of Gulf+Western Inc. in 1977 and is currently part of its Entertainment Group, celebrated its Centennial anniversary on May 31, 1979. Among the many event highlights at the present Garden have been the 1976 and 1980 Democratic National Conventions; the special Youth in Concert visit by Pope John Paull II in 1979; the Knicks winning their first-ever NBA championship with a memorable seventh-game victory over the Los Angeles Lakers in 1970; the dramatic 1979 NHL Stanley Cup playoff semifinal series won by the Rangers over the rival New York Islanders; the 1971 heavyweight "Fight of the Century" between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier; and soldout concerts by the Rolling Stones, Elton John, Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra, Luciano Pavarotti, Celia Cruz, Billy Joel, Michael Jackson, Bruce Springsteen and many other contemporary music stars.

In addition, favorite annual Garden attractions include the Virginia Slims Championships women's tennis tournament, National Horse Show, "Sesame Street Live," Nabisco Masters men's tennis championship, Ice Capades, Harlem Globetrotters, "Muppet Babies Live," Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show, NCAA college basketball, Big East Conference Championship and Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

With Richard H. Evans currently serving as president and chief executive officer, Madison Square Garden Corporation has four operating groups: MSG Communications (Madison Square Garden Network, Madison Square Garden Boxing), MSG Entertainment (Madison Square Garden Enterprises, Madison Square Garden Television), MSG Facilities Development and Management (Madison Square Garden Center) and MSG Sports (New York Rangers Hockey Club, New York Knickerbockers Basketball Club).

Madison Square Garden remains a proud, active citizen and colorful landmark of New York City, committed to continuing the rich, exciting tradition which has inspired press and performing people to proclaim the Garden as "the center of the universe," "the world's most versatile stage," "a palace of pleasure" and "not just a building but a state of mind." Perhaps the late Pulitzer Prize-winning sports journalist Red Smith best summed it up when he wrote, "Madison Square Garden is, very simply, the most famous and glamorous arena in creation."

A Brief History of The New York Rangers

The Rangers' Official Emblem

One of the proudest and most historic franchises in the National Hockey League. That's the New York Rangers, who are embarking on their 62nd season of National Hockey League play in 1987-88.

In the last few seasons, the Rangers have been able to recapture much of the glamour and glitter that marked their early years, a trend which clearly will continue this season.

Back in the 1920s and 1930s, the Rangers were known as "the classiest team in hockey," and the description was certainly an accurate one. In fact, few sporting teams have come into existence with such a wave of success.

Under the astute managership and coaching of Lester Patrick, hockey's famed "Silver Fox," the Rangers were nearly unbeatable in those early years.

Actually, the birth of the Rangers was something of a team effort that involved Patrick, Madison Square Garden fight promoter Tex Rickard and Conn Smythe, then a successful hockey man in Toronto.

Rickard had become fascinated with hockey, and was convinced the game would be enthusiastically supported in the Garden, the world's premier sports arena that had opened its doors just a year earlier.

The team was jocularly called "Tex's Rangers," and the latter part of the name stuck.

Soon after the puck got rolling in New York, Smythe resigned and was quickly replaced by Patrick, the widely known hockey promoter and innovator who came to New York from the defunct Pacific Coast Hockey Association.

Patrick worked his magic from the very start. The Rangers were an instant smash, both on the ice and at the box office, as New Yorkers immediately took to hockey. Ranger games were the place to be in those days, and the club attracted a formal, "dinner-jacket" crowd to the games, which began at 8:45 P.M. The fans were headed by no less a personage than the Mayor of New York himself, the Honorable Jimmy Walker.

In their first 16 seasons, the Rangers missed the playoffs only once, and only twice did they fall lower than third place. New York won three regular-season championships in that span, finished second five times and third on six other occasions. They also won three Stanley Cups.

In short, the Rangers built an empire, and New Yorkers loved every minute of it.

The Original Rangers were led by the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, and Frank Boucher, who won the Lady Byng Trophy so many times the league finally gave it to him permanently. Among the "originals," Bill Cook, Boucher, and colorful defenseman Ching Johnson all made it to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

As the "originals" started to fade out, they were replaced by another stellar group of Ranger stars. Boucher was now coaching the club, while Lester Patrick concentrated on the managerial chores.

Once again, New Yorkers had a brother combination to cheer for. This time it was Neil and Mac Colville, and Alex Shibicky was their linemate. High-scoring Bryan Hextall, fiery Phil Watson, the Patrick brothers, Lynn and Muzz, goalie Dave Kerr, and defensemen Babe Pratt and Art Coulter were all stalwarts of that era.

World War II broke up the gang of Ranger All-Stars, but despite the fall in the team's fortunes after the war, there were still many individual stars on Broadway. Chuck Rayner, Buddy O'Connor, Edgar Laprade, Hy Buller, and Bones Raleigh were standouts in the late Forties and early Fifties.

The arrival of Andy Bathgate in New York signalled another era in Ranger history. Bathgate, twice a first team All-Star, and then the holder of most Ranger scoring records, was the Rangers' superstar for almost a decade. Little Camille Henry, goalie Gump Worsley, Harry Howell, and Dean Prentice were other fans' favorites.

Some 10 years later, another star right wing heralded the Rangers' newest era. Rod Gilbert eventually eclipsed all of Bathgate's scoring records with the club, and played a decade and a half of stellar hockey in New York.

Other stars of that era included Gilbert's linemates, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield, goalie Ed Giacomin, defenseman Brad Park, and center Walt Tkaczuk.

New stars like Anders Hedberg, Ulf Nilsson, Barry Beck, Ron Greschner, Phil Esposito, John Davidson, and the Maloney brothers, Dave and Don, ushered the Rangers into a decade of the 1980s. The team dramatically marched to the Stanley Cup Finals in 1979, and showed real signs of returning to the days of past glory.

The arrival of Phil Esposito in 1986, as the team's eighth general manager in 61 years, heralded the Rangers' latest era, one that promises to be filled with success and excitement. Phil and coach Michel Bergeron and their respective staffs are firmly committed to just one goal: the return of the Stanley Cup to New York.
